Reds Nearing Iraq, Turkey

By the Associated Press

Russian troop columns were reported on the move in Iran today toward the borders of Turkey and Iraq, both British allies. Tehran dispatches said one column, which moved northward out of the Azerbaijan capital of Tabriz toward the Soviet border, had swung west toward Khoi, near the Turkish frontier and not far below the Turkish

This column was swinging north of Lake Urmia, while below the lake other columns, moving mostly at night, were reported at Miyandub, near the Iraq frontier, and at Mianeh, terminal of a railroad to Tehran.

Marshal Ivan Bagramian, Russian expert in tank warfare, who commanded on the Baltic front in the war, was disclosed to have been in Tabriz two or three weeks.

Foreign Secretary Bevin said Great Britain would "regret" any settlement between Russia and Iran which "appeared to be exacted" from Tehran under duress while Soviet forces remained in the country. He said the British had taken no decision to return their troops from Iraq to the troubled area.

He assured Commons the government had received the "most categorical assurances" from Stalin and the Soviet government Iran's integrity would be respected, but these assurances were given long before the present troop movements.

Turkey, which has remained fully mobilized with 1,000,000 men at arms, remained in uneasy silence. Government leaders have pledged a fight to the death before allowing any foe to cross Turkish frontiers. Tension has been mounting between Turkey and Russia for a year since Moscow refused to renew a treaty of friendship and nonaggression.

While Russian troops were thus swinging in the general direction of Kars and Ardahan, Turkish districts which Russia has said should be returned to her, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia printed a sharp attack on Iran. Izvestia declared a "reactionary clique" of Iranian politicians tried in 1919 to get control of the greater part of the Caucasus, including the Soviet oil center of Baku, Soviet Armenia and Soviet Azerbaijan, and still harbored hopes of realizing its ambitions by pitting Russia against other great powers.

"This ruling clique in Iran—not without instigation from the outside—dreamed of tearing away Soviet territories and went so far as to try to make the Caspian

MARSHAL IVAN BAGRAMIAN Moves Reds From Tabriz

REDS MOVE ON TURKEY—A Russian combat force was reported today to be moving from north of Tabriz toward the Turkish border. Shaded area is approximately that controlled by the Reds in Iran. Black area is counties of Ardahan and Kars, given to Turkey by treaty in 1921, which the Soviet has asked be returned.

sea into an internal Iranian sea," said the Izvestia article. Bevin was believed in communication with Byrnes on the situation, but no official cognizance yet had been taken of Stalin's bitter personal attack on Churchill for his speech March 5 at Fulton, Mo., in which he proposed an alliance of Britain and the United States.

Stalin yesterday declared Churchill was advocating a Hitler-like race theory of rule by English-speaking nations under the threat of war with the Soviet Union.

U. S. Gets New Data On Reds' Iran Push

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The United States is continuing to receive reports of extensive Russian troop movements in Iran, a State Department official said today.

It can be stated the reports show three Russian forces of strong, but not massive, size distributed about as follows:

One column at Karaj, 23 miles from Tehran, Iranian capital where American officials believe, a Leftist coup may be planned by Tudeh (Communist) party leaders to install a pro-Soviet government.

Another column has passed the town of Marand, north of Urmia lake and turned toward Khoi in the wild country of Kurdish tribesmen along the Turkish border.

Churchill was to make an important speech in New York at 10:30 tomorrow night, and perhaps might reply.

The British press suggested a meeting of Stalin, Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman was urgently needed to end the "long range recrimination."

There still was no official Soviet reply to the latest note Byrnes sent demanding an explanation for the Soviet troop movements in Iran and a British note of 11 days ago asking an explanation of why the Russians stayed in Iran after the March 2 deadline.

The third column at Mianeh, south of the communication center of Tabriz, and in position to go either toward Tehran or the Turkish-Iraq border.

Because of the nearness of the forces to the area of the Kurds, there is strong speculation one major Russian objective may be to launch a Kurdish uprising which would simultaneously involve Turkey, Iran and Iraq.

Best available evidence is the Russian forces are small mobile striking units of tanks and cavalry.

Police Boat Rescues 2 Boys As Flimsy Raft Breaks Up

Two boys who plunged into Dorchester Bay when their makeshift raft broke up, were rescued today by the crew of the police boat McShane after they had drifted, clinging to planks, 300 feet offshore from Mile rd. pumping station.

At City Hospital they were identified as Charles Cook, 17, and Robert LaFleur, 17, both of Fourth st., South Boston. Cook was in good condition but LaFleur was reported in poor shape. The boys were only a short distance from shore when the crude raft broke up.

They managed to grasp planks, but were being swept away rapidly toward Thompson's island.

Their cries for help attracted persons on shore, police were notified and the McShane was rushed to the scene.

Aboard the police boat the boys were given first aid treatment. From Kelly's landing, South Boston, a police ambulance took them to the hospital.

Is Russia Forcing Third World War?

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, March 14 (INS)—Is Russia about to force a third World War on the United States and Great Britain?

The best answer obtainable in Washington is: "POSSIBLY YES, BUT PROBABLY NO."

The answer is "YES" if Russia declares war on Britain in a conflict over power in the Near East.

The Truman administration is pledged to sustain Britain. It has no present intention of letting Russia destroy Britain after spending American lives and hundreds of billions of dollars to save Britain from Hitler.

Of course, the Truman Administration must have the support of Congress in such a verdict.

The answer is also "YES" if the United Nations Organization should brand Russia an aggressor in any part of the world. The Truman administration is determined to lend its armed might to sustain U.N. decisions.

A U.N. decision may come soon on the Russian issue. The U.N. Security Council meets in New York March 25. The Administration believes the council must take some action about Russia, if the Soviet does not show a least the Russian means while, or be dissolved into a shadow organization similar to the League of Nations.

The answer is "NO" if Britain tries to provoke a war with Russia.

The Truman administration believes Britain will never declare war on Russia without prior American consent.

The administration is convinced Russia has no direct designs against the United States. It believes Russia desires peace with us.

Washington's chief hope of continued world peace rests upon a belief Russia is not ready now for major war with America's productive capacity.

Top men in the administration feel the Russian economy is unprepared for total warfare.

There is a major weakness in this theorizing and administration "big shots" admit it. It is that they know practically nothing about Russia's intentions, her present economy, her war potentiality or her present armed strength. They are completely in the dark and guessing about Russia's plans and strength.

One segment of Washington opinion believes that Soviet military activities in Iran are a prelude to a Russian attack on Turkey. This might not lead to a major war but it would have devastating effect on world diplomacy.

Washington doesn't know whether Russia has five million or twelve million men under arms. It doesn't know whether Russia has five thousand or 50 thousand tanks. It knows almost nothing about Russia's air strength.

Russia even bars its allies from the Soviet zone in Germany. The allies don't even know Russian armed strength in the German zone.

On the other hand, Russia knows all about Britain's military weakness and what remains of American armed might. It has learned all about American might by reading newspapers and listening to the radio. Only the atom bomb remains a military secret.

Russia has been so secretive that the returning U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman was held a virtual prisoner in Moscow for the past year. On his return, he knew no more about Russia's military strength or plans than a State Department official who had remained at home.

Russian secrecy was applied to almost every foreigner. An American agricultural delegation sent in friendly gesture to Russia to study mutual farm problems has been confined to Moscow hotel rooms. All communication with Russian agriculturists are being conducted by letter. The American delegation could have done as much from Washington.

This terrific Russian cloak for secrecy, imposed throughout the Pole Calls Stalin Red 'Hindenburg'

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, named by Stalin as one of the men Winston Churchill would have liked to see ruling Poland, asserted today Stalin has been "forced into the role of a Russian Hindenburg."

"I know Stalin well; the thoughts and words expressed were not those of the old Stalin," Anders said in a statement. "My old friend Stalin obviously has been forced into the role of a Russian Hindenburg. I am sorry for the old man. He has certainly changed."

(Anders' reference to Hindenburg was not clarified. In his last years, Hindenburg as president of Germany, became a figurehead after he appointed Hitler chancellor.)

war and now continued into the peace, alarms the Administration. Some officials believe that it means Russia is intent upon war and war soon.

Others believe the secrecy is imposed to hide Russia's weak economy so she can bluff her way with warlike maneuvers into diplomatic victory.

Many top officials believe Russia is acting tough all over the world because Moscow knows Britain is terribly weak in a military sense, and that the United States has wrecked her war machine by precipitous demobilization.

Administration spokesmen frankly state that the United States is not ready now for war even though it had the greatest Army, the greatest Navy and the greatest air force in the world just seven months ago.

The Russian situation will have an immediate effect in Washington. The Truman administration is determined to enact the $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

The Administration believes this loan to Britain would give London a strong economy—an economy needed to help the United States if a third world war comes, not tomorrow, but in the next generation.

In all the mystery and doubt one solid fact stands out: the Truman administration is determined to stand by Britain in an Anglo-Russian war. It was not an idle gesture when President Truman stood at Fulton, Mo., platform while Winston Churchill made his bid for an Anglo-American military alliance.

U. S. Captain Hit in Trieste

TRIESTE, March 14 (AP)—A U. S. Army captain was seriously injured by a stone hurled during a demonstration yesterday outside the military police barracks at Caporetto, the Allied newspaper Giornale Alligato reported today.

The dispatch said the captain, identified as Paul E. Hanson, was taken to a hospital.

38,550 N.E. Workers Hail GE Strike Peace

A carnival spirit prevailed in Lynn today as 20,000 General Electric workers awaited word from New York that settlement of the 57-day strike was ratified by local heads of the United Electrical Workers, CIO, clearing 16,000 union members here Saturday. There was little doubt, that approval of the settlement would go forward without a hitch and workers would start back at their jobs Monday.

FREED—Mrs. Alice E. Nagle of Roxbury won her freedom in an uncontested divorce today in Suffolk Court where she charged her husband, David, with desertion. She told court she last saw her husband in 1939 and on that occasion said she was punched in the face.

Full production will be reached a week or 10 days afterward, company spokesmen estimated.

Sharing in the wage increase of 18½ cents hourly, granted at a meeting in New York which produced union and management agreement to end the strike, will be some 38,550 persons in New England.

An Associated Press report from New York today said the union's conference board had ratified the agreement and would refer it to the membership of the various locals.

There are 16,000 union and 4000 non-union in the two Lynn plants, 8500 in Pittsfield, 800 in East Boston, 350 in Providence, 600 in Fitchburg, 350 in Taunton, 450 in Meriden, Ct., and 7500 in Bridgeport, Ct.

In Lynn, the rank and file were notified a mass meeting to ratify the agreement will be held in Oak Fellows' Hall at 2 p. m. Saturday. Meanwhile, the strike is technically continuing and pickets were ordered to go through the motions of parading in front of the River Works and West Lynn plants.

Guilty Gypsy Needs Cure, Too

Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, 56, a Russian-born gypsy, of Washington st., South End, used all the magic she knew to cure Mrs. Celia Brass, 58, of Olmstead pk., Roxbury, but today in Municipal Court it was Mrs. Adams who could have used a good doctor.

Mrs. Brass told the court that her trips to the gypsy, during which her neuritis was "treated" with eggs, dirty handkerchiefs and 3 a. m. prayers by Mrs. Adams. For this the patient paid over a total of $150, the last $10 as police steps.

Judge Elias Shamon, who found the defendant guilty of larceny, gave her six months' probation on a promise to make restitution. Mrs. Adams whipped out a check book, wrote a $150 check and commented "I don't feel so good myself."

Rental Swap

ALBUQUERQUE, N. H., March 14 (AP)—"Nobody claimed salesman F. R. Corlias' offer of an all-expenses-paid air trip to Los Angeles in return for a house the former Army flyer could rent but—

Chester T. French, business man, had a suitable six-room house. He didn't care for flying, but he did want a good-sized subscription to start off a local drive for funds to fight cancer.

So they swapped—and Corlias, his wife and their 2-year-old and 10-day-old daughters have moved out of a hotel.

35,000 to Get Bethlehem Raise

The Bethlehem Steel Co. offered a general wage increase of 18 cents an hour to approximately 35,000 shipyard workers today in Quincy, East Boston and its other shipbuilding plants along the Atlantic Coast.

The wage offer is subject to approval by government procurement agencies and by its terms would extend an existing agreement with the United Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, CIO, to June 23, 1947.

The proposal was submitted by D. C. Mills, manager of industrial relations, at a meeting of company and union representatives in New York.

House in Fiery Churchill Clash

WASHINGTON, March 14 (INS)—Winston Churchill was assailed and defended today in a spirited debate in the House.

Rep. Buffet (R.) of Nebraska, protested the "use of radio networks" for what he termed Churchill's "war mongering speeches."

Rep. Rankin (D.) of Mississippi leaped to Churchill's defense, said he was "surprised to hear members of Congress refer to Churchill as a war monger," and commented: "It sounds like something out of Moscow."

Ton o' Cash Explodes in P. O.

Handled a bit too roughly, a bag containing at least $100,000 and equipped with an automatic theft-proof device, exploded with a series of sharp reports and a cloud of choking gas today in the main lobby of the postoffice.

Scores of persons fled, believing a gun battle was on because of the postoffice.

These Days Retreat From Mukden

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

UPON THE very first indication that the United States was no longer submitting to the indecent and cowardly appeasements of Yalta, the Russians retreated from Mukden.

Descendants of Ghengis Khan, they have apparently burned the city while retreating.

The Russians have introduced a medieval barbarism into our world, the looting of the land of friend and foe, the shipping home of vast booty, the property of friend as well as foe, the enslavement of human beings and their utilization as chattel, the creation of tension and terror in peace as in war.

In spite of Mr. Roosevelt's inability or unwillingness to stand up for a single principle of justice at Tehran or Yalta, and in spite of Mr. Byrnes' cringings since he has become Secretary of State, the moment the Russians realized that this country is taking no more of their guff, they turned tail.

The Russians have been bluffing admirably and undoubtedly have been wondering when these funny Americans would have the wisdom and courage to call their bluff.

The Russian desire for Manchuria is nothing new. After the Sino-Japanese War of 1894, to which Russia was no party, the Russians intervened to vitiate the clauses of the treaty of Shimonoseki.

Li Hung-Chang, who had negotiated for China, found the terms of that treaty unbecoming and appealed to the powers for aid. In one of those delightful Willy-Nicky letters between the Kaiser and the Czar, the former wrote the latter as follows:

Winds Handicap Airport at Night

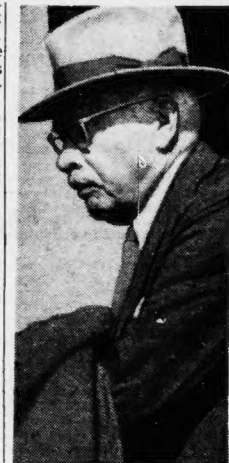

Airlines operating at Logan Airport will be at the mercy of the winds for another month as far as night flights are concerned.

It will be that long, Public Works Comm. Herman A. MacDonald announced today, before vital lighting facilities can be installed on three temporary runways, due to be completed then.

Present pot torches are used to illuminate the runways and these have been blown out by high winds on more than one occasion, necessitating cancellation of night flights.

Associate Comr. Joseph F. Cairnes is negotiating with the War Surplus Property Board for the purchase of lights for illuminating 14,000 feet of runways.

BILL ASKS BALLOT AT 18

Both GM and the CIO United Auto workers predicted speedy approval of the proposed contract, calling for an 18½-cent hourly wage rate increase for 175,000 GM workers.

"—then later on you can run the film backwards—that way you can eat your cake and have it, too!"

"... (It) is clearly the great task of the future for Russia to cultivate the Asian continent and to defend Europe from the inroads of the great yellow race. In this you will always find me on your side ready to help you as best I can... I shall with interest await the further development of our action and hope that, just as I will gladly help you settle the question of eventual annexations of portions of territory for Russia, you will kindly see that Germany may also be able to acquire a port somewhere where it does not grieve (embarrass) you."

So the Dreibund of Russia, Germany and France was organized to rob Japan of the fruits of her first victorious war.

As a result of these machinations, in which Count Witte took the lead, Japan was pushed out of Manchuria and Russia came in.

The Russians established the Russo-Chinese bank, subsequently the Russo-Asiatic bank, as a disguised agency of the Russian foreign office for the political and economic conquest of Manchuria.

ALTHOUGH THERE was a public treaty between China and Russia, the real basis for their relationship was a secret treaty, the Li-Lobanoff Treaty, signed after duress and bribery on June 3, 1896.

Out of this treaty came the Chinese Eastern railroad, an instrument of Russian control and domination of Manchuria.

Count Witte said of this: "The terms of the railroad concessions granted by China were very favorable for Russia. The agreement provided for China's right to redeem the road at the expiration of 36 years, but the terms of the redemption were so burdensome that it was highly improbable that the Chinese government would ever attempt to effect the redemption."

As in our present situation, Russia immediately settled down to the occupation of Manchuria as her own territory. That it was Chinese did not matter. They had moved in, as a friend and ally of China, to save China from Japan, and decided to stay forever and take over. It was that "best friend" story all over again.

However, at that moment in stepped John Hay, one of America's greatest Secretaries of State. His "Open Door Policy," aimed directly at Russia, told the Russians that the United States would not recognize monopolies to any country edified by force or otherwise.

John Hay's "Open Door Policy," a reiteration of Daniel Webster's policy of 1843, has been the American doctrine from then to Yalta.

Teachers Lash School Board, Demand Raise

Sharp criticism of the lack of leadership of school administrative officials and of "politicians" on the school committee and a demand for a 20 per cent minimum pay increase for teachers and city employees were contained today in "The Teachers' Voice," publication of the Boston English High School Teachers Ass'n.

The publication cited a statement in last October's bulletin of the Boston Schoolmen's Economic Ass'n that the morale of Boston's men teachers had been shattered and went on to say:

"Since the statement has not been denied or even questioned, it is in order to examine the possible causes of this sad state.

"Is it because our administrators lack the courage and sincerity of real leaders? Is it because school populations have dwindled and yet jobs have been established which were unnecessary when school numbers were at their height?"

"Is it because our school committee is composed of politicians rather than educators who would have the welfare of education at heart?"

The publication declared the proposal of Committeeman Michael J. Ward to survey the Strayer survey would "only delay action now." It also criticized secret meetings of the committee to act on disciplinary problems.

The issue declared there was a definite shortage of trained teachers and that this scarcity would continue for five to ten years.

In demanding at least a 20 per cent pay increase the article said waiters and waitresses in Boston "hot spots" can earn more than many Boston teachers.

Winchester Triple Bride in Jail Break

June Virginia Benson, 23-year-old Winchester blonde, who made headlines in January when her story of woes and woes with three husbands featured a New York bigamy trial, was back in the news today as the result of a daring attempt to stage a jail break.

Authorities in New York disclosed June tried to escape a prison sentence for perjury by leading five other inmates in a vain dash for freedom from the Women's House of Detention.

During the try, a woman keeper was slugged with a makeshift blackjack wielded by Melba Austin, another inmate. The break failed when an alarm sounded by another prisoner called guards who penned June and her five companions in a fifth floor corridor.

Although found not guilty of bigamy, thrice-wed June was sentenced Feb. 21 to one to two years for perjury.

New York authorities charged that before her divorce from Lt. Comdr. Thomas M. Foster of Winchester became final, she was married in July, 1943, to Charles F. Schreiner of Long Island, N. Y., a discharged Army sergeant, and in applying for her license she stated she had not been previously wed.

Ship Gives 6600 Tons a Long Ride

The War Shipping Admin. freighter Bowling Green Victory arrived at Castle Island today after a record-breaking 25,000-mile voyage from San Francisco. If it's comforting to the fellow struggling with his income tax, this is what happened:

The Bowling Green Victory, leased to New York agents, left San Francisco last October with 6600 tons of engineer and quartermaster supplies for the Pacific. She laid idle at Okinawa for a while, moved on to various Philippine ports and finally put about and came to Boston—the 6600 tons still in her holds.

Wages of the crew totaled more than $30,000 and the Army has to also pay the agents for fuel and the cost of the vessel. The cargo, including roofing material, shoes, clothing and supplies, will be taken over by the Army here and sent to another port.

Even now the long voyage is not complete, according to spokesmen for the shippers. Equipment, much of it badly rusted, was to have been unloaded at this port but orders have been given to begin the argosy again. It is expected the vessel will continue to New York.

Cop Is Slashed Aiding 2 Girls

Arraigned in Roxbury court for assault with attempt to murder the officer, Houston collapsed. Judge Samuel Eisenstadt held him in $10,000 and continued the case.

Germes Learning to Combat Penicillin's Effectiveness

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Reporter
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 14 (AP)—Penicillin is losing its punch so rapidly it was predicted today this wonder drug may become almost completely useless in a few years for a number of most prevalent diseases.

The trouble is not in penicillin, but in special strains of germs, present in many diseases, which are able to resist penicillin, and which are spreading rapidly while their fellows are being destroyed by the drug.

The prediction was made by Dr. Hans Molitor of the Merck Institute for Therapeutic Research in a report to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology. He told the pharmacological society the trouble penicillin faces is not new. It happens in most remedies. But in penicillin the increase in the germs that tolerate the drug seems to be very rapid.

Molitor listed four ways to retard the loss of penicillin's effectiveness.

One is to give overdoses great enough to kill even the resistant germs. This might be fairly safe since penicillin is not toxic.

The second is to combine other drugs with penicillin. This is done occasionally now. It is not too satisfactory, however, since the combination causes bad reactions in some patients.

The third way is to discover new antibiotics, as penicillin is called. An example is streptomycin. But streptomycin is subject to losing its effectiveness precisely as does penicillin.

The fourth way is to give chemical compounds that make the germs more sensitive to penicillin. Such drugs, Dr. Molitor said, are known. Some amino acids, for example, increase sensitivity of the disease germs.

Tunnel Haze Slows Traffic

Autos were slowed to a crawl today by a thick haze which filled Summer Tunnel and little relief was expected from the condition for a few days.

Tunnel employees said the haze was due to the throwing of an accumulation of winter dirt carried into the underwater tube by trucks and other vehicles.

Ventilating fans, which ordinarily blow in fresh air and remove bad air, cannot handle the thick haze and crews with vacuum equipment will be used during the early morning hours for the next few days.

Motorists, customarily traveling from one end of the tunnel to the other in a minute, required seven minutes for the trip.

Braintree Recount Result Due Saturday

Kennedy May Get Ickes Post

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—President Truman has not made up his mind he who will name for Navy undersecretary now that Edwin W. Pauley has withdrawn, the White House said today.

While there was plenty of guessing on Capitol Hill about prospective nominees, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that "no name has been decided upon." He said it was "unlikely" that Mr. Truman would be ready to announce the nomination at a news conference late today.

Four names figured immediately in the speculation: H. Struve Hensel, recently resigned assistant secretary, and John L. Sullivan, a present assistant secretary; Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain, and Colgate W. Darden, former Governor of Virginia.

A member of the Senate naval committee said he understood Kennedy would not be interested in the post unless it would lead to full cabinet status.

Friendly Call Saves Life of Woman, 73

Neighbors who call daily to cheer her up today saved the life of Mrs. Annie E. Youngquist, 73, of Billings rd., Quincy, discovered unconscious in the kitchen of her gas-filled home.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Donnell dropped in as usual and found her near death in a chair. They threw up windows and called firemen who used an inhalator 35 minutes to revive her. At Quincy City Hospital, doctors said she would recover. Police said she probably collapsed before she could light the gas.

Look! Muffins made with Peanut Butter!

(No shortening and only 1/4 cup sugar)

If you'd like to try something brand new in muffins that's truly delicious and saves on shortening, too — try Kellogg's new Peanut Butter Muffins. You'll love their flavor. You'll love, too, the tender, melt-in-your-mouth texture of bran muffins made with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. For ALL-BRAN is milled extra-fine for golden softness.

1/2 cup peanut butter	1/2 cup Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
1/2 cup sugar	1 cup sifted flour
1 egg, well beaten	1 tablespoon baking powder
1 cup milk	1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend peanut butter and sugar thoroughly; stir in egg, milk and KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 10 tender, tasty muffins.

Good Nutrition, too!

ALL-BRAN is made from the VITAL OUTER LAYERS of finest wheat—contains a concentration of the protective food elements found in the whole grain. One-half cup provides over 1/2 your daily minimum need for iron. Serves Kellogg's ALL-BRAN cereal!

Goering Boasts He Asked Hitler to Give Franco Aid

By NOLAND NORGAARD
NUERNBERG, March 14 (AP)—Hermann Goering testified before the International Military Tribunal today that he asked Hitler to send help to Franco during the Spanish civil war "to prevent the spread of Communism and to try our young air force experimentally."

"At that time," said Goering of Nazi intervention in Spain, "I had an opportunity to see if we had the proper equipment, and I saw to it that the personnel got some experience."

"Young men continually went and returned."

Goering, resuming direct testimony in his own behalf, boasted that his Luftwaffe was responsible for the swift conquest of Poland, "just as the American Air Force assured the Allied victory."

He confirmed that he ordered the Nazi aircraft industry to develop a bomber capable of flying to the United States and back, insisting that they do this work "expeditiously in case America entered the war."

The lack of aluminum and technological planning caused him to forego development of long-range four-engine bombers, Goering said.

The Luftwaffe was developing jet aircraft even before the war, he said, adding proudly, "I am solely responsible for rearmament of the air force in every way."

Goering also accepted "full and complete responsibility" for all anti-Jewish economic decrees which bore his signature.

Equal Women's Pay Is Urged

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Labor Secretary Schwelienbach asserted today women should have the same pay and job opportunities as men. At least one in every 10 working women, he said, now provides the entire support of a family.

Schwelienbach spoke at the opening of a Labor Department conference on women's employment problems.

He told the group no bars should be erected against the employment of women, married or single, and work they can do under physically healthful conditions.

Secondly, he added, pay scales should not discriminate against women.

Stabbed in Quarrel, Wife Asks Divorce

Mrs. Olive K. Colton, 34, of Redington rd., Swampscott, sought divorce on grounds of cruelty in Salem probate court today from Charles, now serving a 2 1/2-year sentence for stabbing her.

Mrs. Colton said the stabbing occurred last October, on his discharge from the Navy, when she objected to his spending money to buy a beach wagon. Judge John A. Costello took the case under advisement.

Peron Leading In Foe's Stronghold

BUENOS AIRES, March 14 (AP)—Juan D. Peron strengthened his lead in the presidential contest today by forging ahead in populous Buenos Aires Province, which has 88 electoral votes. Incomplete returns showed Peron had overtaken the early lead of Tamborini. Peron now leads, 304 to 72, in the indicated electoral vote.

Republican Drafts Food Control Plan

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Legislation centralizing in the Agriculture Department all control over the nation's food program was drafted today by Chairman Jenkins (R.) of Ohio, of the special Republican congressional food study committee.

—The War Department announced today it intended to speed the discharge of more than 47,000 officers. Action came amid persistent rumors the Army had alerted reserves because of the tense international situation. The department has said such reports were "without foundation."

Under instructions to all commands, most officers with two years' service as to Aug. 31 will be released. Exceptions include Medical Corps officers and those in scarce categories.

Mother of Gloria Denies Heiress Neglected as Child

NEW YORK, March 14 (INS)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt today dismissed as "disgraceful" the charge of her heiress-daughter.

ter, Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski, that she had been neglected as a child.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, 43, spoke in a voice of utter weariness in her $175-a-month apartment in the fashionable Manhattan East Side. She said:

"The whole thing is so disgraceful that I can't say anything. If my daughter wants to make statements, there is nothing I can do about it."

Mrs. Vanderbilt referred to statements of the 22-year-old heiress in Mexico City that the younger Gloria had cut off her mother's $21,000-a-year income and suggested her mother get a job and support herself.

She was asked about reports that various job offers have been made to her in the past day or two. She replied that she knew nothing of them, except what she has read in the papers.

Provincetown Asks Mile of Breakwater

Sixty fishermen from Provincetown—tied for third place in Massachusetts and 13th place in the country in the huge catch of its catch in 1945—appealed to the State today for help in building a breakwater to protect the fleet in their harbor.

Chairman Irving S. Rogers of the Provincetown selectmen told the committee that the problem was too large for the town to handle alone. Rogers said the proposed breakwater, 11.5 miles in length probably would cost $2,000,000.

GUINNESS

IS GOOD FOR YOU

First brewed in Dublin in 1759! This imported STOUT is internationally famous as a refreshing appetizing beverage. It has long been the world's most popular brew.

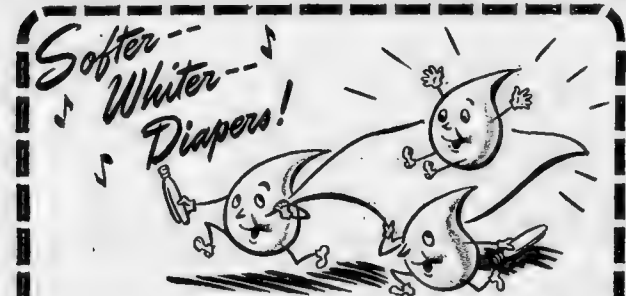

With a clean, dry, vigorous flavour, Guinness is hearty, robust . . . brewed with unusually large amounts of barley-malt.

The natural benefits of its mineral content are retained . . . also the goodness of its special, active yeast, so Guinness continues its long maturing in bottle!

Nothing else like it. Invigorating, nourishing. Good if you're underweight. . . but Guinness is not in itself fattening, compared with other foods. Relax with Guinness at bedtime if you have a little difficulty going to sleep easily.

Enjoy Guinness before or with meals—at bedtime—when you're tired . . . or thirsty. Drink it straight . . . or as famous "Half & Half" (beer or ale with Guinness added). Pour gently, never ice cold. Life is brighter after Guinness.

Due to export controls and Service needs, Guinness is hard to find. But it will be back again before long. EDWARD & JOHN BURKE, LTD., Long Island City 4, New York, Sole U.S. Distributors. GU-366

Cabbie Foils 2 In Lynn Holdup

Two husky sailors, beaten off by a middle-aged Roxbury cab driver after they allegedly tried to rob him in Lynn this morning, were held for the grand jury in $2500 each in Lynn district court for assault with intent to rob.

Lawrence Taylor, 45, of Huntington ave., said they hired his cab at North station and told him to drive to Beverly. At State and Pleasant sts., Lynn, he added, they demanded his money.

Taylor related one said, "He's a pretty good fellow; we won't use the gun on him." Then he was grabbed by the throat from behind. With his cigar he burned his attacker's hand and jumped from the cab. In the ensuing fight he seized a bullet of wood from one assailant and swung it with such effect both fled.

The prisoners identified themselves as James J. Andrews of Vineyard Haven and Ora L. Baker of Frankfort, Ind., each 20.

Southampton's First Martial Show by GI's

SOUTHAMPTON, England, March 14 (AP)—A detachment of 160 members of the U. S. Army Transportation Corps paraded with bayonets fixed, drums rolling and the Stars and Stripes flying today in the first military ceremonial march in Southampton's 1000-year history.

The honor was accorded the 14th Marine Port Unit in recognition of its accomplishment in funneling 2,000,000 men through this bomb-damaged city for the liberation of Europe.

FIRE IN RESTAURANT Damage estimated at $1500 was caused in Barney Sheff's restaurant, Boylston st., downtown, today by a fire which authorities blamed on a defective flue.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

From Dennis J. Delaney, Collector of Internal Revenue, in this area, came the following advice today, in which he requests that the Veterans' Friend column relay following to veterans preparing last minute Federal Income tax returns.

To all ex-service men:

"IMPORTANT DATA"

1—All tax on pay to enlisted men, non-commissioned officers and warrant officers in any amount paid from 1941 to the present has been forgiven by the government and men in these classifications do not have to file a return on any such sum received while in service.

2—Officers are forgiven from tax payment on the first $1500 of annual pay, in other words they deduct $1500 from their total pay and file a return for the balance.

3—Those in the service (enlisted) who paid taxes for the years 1941 and 1942 on government pay are entitled to a rebate of that tax. (Local Internal Revenue Officers will assist you in filing proper claim for refund.)

4—Officers may make deferred payments on tax owed on their service pay. (a) If you were discharged prior to Dec. 1, 1945, you file a return for each year you receive officers pay, deducting the $1500 from the gross pay of each year. (b) If any tax liability remains after taking their exemptions, in the tax form, you may then pay the tax in 12 payments spread over 36 months. (c) The first payment to be made May 15, 1946 and payment to be made every three months thereafter.

5—Any man who was discharged during 1945 and received civilian pay, must file a return on that salary. It must be noted that men below the rank of a commissioned officer will disregard the pay received in service while making out his tax return.

ANY QUESTIONS? CONTACT NEAREST INTERNAL REVENUE OFFICE OR BOSTON OFFICE, 141 MILK ST., BOSTON.

Q—My son was in the Philippines at the time of "Corregidor Surrender." Taken prisoner by the Japs he died a short time later in prison camp. I understand a blanket insurance of $5000 was placed on these men by the government. Is that true? Also would I be entitled to any ribbons or medals that might have been awarded my son had he lived? D. F. C., Springfield.

A—A policy was placed on the men who were in the Philippines early in 1942 by an act of Congress. Contact Veterans Administration for further details. Regarding medals, etc., write Adjutant General, War Dept., Washington 25, D. C. (Attention Bureau of Awards and Decorations.)

Q—I enlisted in the Army August, 1945, and was honorably discharged in December of the same year. Received $200 mustering-out pay, but no state bonus. I re-enlisted as an M. P. and about to be shipped overseas. Will I receive mustering-out pay again after discharge and what is my status on state bonus? T. C., Somerville.

A—Will not receive second mustering-out payment. Eligible to apply for the $100 state bonus on basis of 1945 discharge.

Q—My husband enlisted in the Navy from Detroit, 1936. Shortly afterward we were married and I made my home in Cambridge. He has also used that as his address. His second re-enlistment was from San Francisco.

He is being discharged from service next July, and would like to know if he is qualified to file for Mass. State bonus.

A—Your case is one that will have to be passed upon by the State Treasurer's Office. Several additional facts must be made known before answer could be made. I would say that his legal address at time of enlistment, namely Detroit, would make him eligible for Michigan bonus, when adopted.

A TIMELY MESSAGE TO COKE USERS

DURING the past few weeks, due to circumstances beyond our control, we and our dealers sometimes have been forced to deliver smaller sizes of coke in place of larger sizes asked for.

HERE'S THE STORY

A serious shortage of other solid fuels has caused greatly increased demand for New England Coke. Since our product is a necessity of life, this is a kind of demand we cannot ignore. If we supplied only our regular customers — as has been suggested — thousands of families would suffer. In fairness to the whole community, we and our dealers have been filling every order received, even though it means we must sometimes deliver smaller sizes.

Some customers ask — “why not make only large sizes and stop making small sizes?” The answer is that in the coke-making process smaller sizes as well as large are automatically made.

We have been (and still are) running our plant at capacity day and night to produce all the coke we can including as much as possible of the larger sizes. As orders are received, the size you ask for is delivered — as long as the supply lasts. Only then do we deliver small sizes. To hold orders over until a new supply of large coke is ready would delay all deliveries and create additional hardship.

The smaller sizes are the same quality, have just as much heat in them as larger sizes. You can get genuine heating satisfaction from smaller sizes of New England Coke. To help you do so, we are here giving simple but complete instructions.

How to use smaller COKE sizes for best results

- ▶ Poke the fire less than normally.
- ▶ Jiggle (don't shake) the grates.
- ▶ When refueling, slope the coke upward toward the back of the heater.
- ▶ Do not fill the fire box as high as with larger sizes.
- ▶ Draft more than with larger sizes.
- ▶ Leave turn damper partly open and, unless an automatic heat regulator is in use, keep the ash pit damper slightly open.

A TEMPORARY SITUATION

Through most of the winter we have filled your orders for coke in the sizes wanted. In a short time fuel demands should have eased up enough so that you will again get exactly the size of coke you like in your heater.

NO PLACE FOR POLITICS

POLITICAL EFFORTS to sabotage a Massachusetts State Department of Commerce are deplorable and dangerous.

Democrats and Republicans who have a sincere interest in prosperity and employment should have nothing to do with these myopic devices.

Our failure to establish an aggressive Department of Commerce has already cost us hundreds of essential industries and thousands of jobs.

ARE WE SO BLINDLY DEVOTED TO PEANUT POLITICS THAT WE WILL SUBMIT SUPINELY TO FURTHER DESTRUCTION?

A commission headed by the provenly able Joseph P. Kennedy, former Ambassador to Great Britain, has warned that the proposed Department of Commerce is an urgent necessity.

And that is enough for most persons, even if it is not enough for those who would emulate Nero and fiddle foolishly in the face of certain catastrophe.

Let the opponents of the Department of Commerce tell us what they have done to halt the exodus of business and industry from Massachusetts to more alert and progressive States.

GLASS HOUSES

PROFESSOR SILVERMAN, head of the chemistry department of the University of Pittsburgh, recently said that glass may provide the best defense against the atomic bomb.

"It probably will not withstand the explosive shock," he said, "but shelters lined with high lead and uranium-bearing glasses will keep out the harmful radiations from the explosive."

This should be encouraging news to persons planning new homes.

There is no reason why the modern house cannot be built almost entirely of glass.

Such construction ought to be cheaper, better looking and much more serviceable.

And it would have the added advantage of letting in the beneficial solar rays and thus preventing colds, pneumonia, tuberculosis and all other diseases which thrive in darkness and dampness.

Science has improved almost everything we use—automobiles, airplanes, stoves, washing machines, vacuum cleaners—even nailfiles and toothbrushes.

But houses continue to be as obsolete and inadequate as they were in our grandparents' youth.

Glass is capable of transforming every dwelling into a perpetual and lovely tropical garden.

Instead of employing it intelligently, we cling to the customs of the horse and buggy era and freeze or roast in dismal structures that have changed little since the first log cabin.

A BETTER PLAN

ABRUPTLY, with little time for debate or deliberation, the Massachusetts House of Representatives recently killed a bill which would have placed employees of the Boston Public Library under Civil Service.

Much better would have been the creation of a legislative commission to study the proposal thoroughly.

Civil Service has been successful in the Los Angeles library system for nearly a half-century.

Miss Alhea Warren, the librarian, recently declared that Civil Service had proved an extremely valuable facility for selecting employees and had saved the cost of an expensive personnel division.

On the other hand, the famous New York Public Library has found its promotions-by-merit program to be preferable to Civil Service.

It may not be too late for the House of Representatives to reconsider its obviously hasty action and give the subject of library operation the serious attention it deserves.

The brilliant black eye

All its darts without

But the soft eye of blue

Is much better pleased
When it heals them.
—THOMAS MOORE.

OUR HORSES & Women Department has been instructed to check on Mr. Moore's charge black-eyed beauties are more heartless as flirts than blue-eyed females. A frank report will appear in an early issue . . . If a 30-pound mongrel dog attacked a 150-pound mountain lion, what would the dog have of escaping with his life? Not one in a billion. However, the odds against him did not prevent a Kane, Pa., mongrel from attacking a mountain lion in defense of his 4-year-old master. The child and dog were playing in their back yard when the lion, which had escaped from a zoo, approached the youngster. The dog sprang at the lion. This attack distracted the lion's attention long enough to permit the child to run to safety in the house. The lion killed the dog. Thus was added one more to the long list of dogs that have proven their love by laying down their lives for friends and masters. Yet there are persons who say they cannot understand why so many people are so fond of dogs.

PLEASE NOTE: "As to how long it should take a woman to iron a shirt, I don't know," writes a Bostonian. "But I did see that an efficiency expert said a woman takes about 70 stances in hand-ironing a shirt. No wonder women take so long to do their housework."

MULES & MEN: Some hints by stargazers on the angle of approach to use on eligible bachelors: Aries (March 22-April 20) bachelors fall for the "Oh, I think you're just wonderful" line. Gemini (May 21-June 21) have to listen to them talk about themselves with rapt attention. Must be interested in him and his, even though he doesn't Betty Hutton show much interest in you and yours. Taurus (April 21-May 21) likes people with a sense of humor like Betty Hutton. Agrees with the man who said: "A woman without a laugh in her is the greatest bore in existence." Virgo (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) falls for intellectual women, even when he doesn't know him. Erstwhile leather pusher. If Tommy isn't actually the champion papa of sportmen, he certainly must be near the top of the list. He is the proud and loving father of nine children . . . what they are talking about. Impressed by large words. Is attracted by girls who carry books to read while riding to work on buses or street cars.

PLEASE NOTE: Our campaign against women using names intended for men continues to get nowhere fast. A Manhattan model who says her parents named her Lierra recently changed it to Lee. Now she is known as Lee Ward. I think she made a mistake. Lierra, the name her papa and mama gave her, is much more attractive. Anyway, Miss Ward, the model, now has the same first name as Lee Savold, the boxer, and Lee Tracy, the actor. This is a ridiculous and confusing state of affairs.

GIVE THEM CREDIT: In reply to a query by Lucius Beebe, Joe E. Howard said: "As for 'I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now?' I wrote it in 1906 in a booth. I think it was at the College Inn in Chicago." Perhaps Howard did write the music of this song in the College Inn, but the words, the most important factor in the success of this particular song, were written by Frank R. Adams and Will Hough. Why does Howard so persistently refuse to give credit to his old friends and collaborators in the writing of this famous song?

SAYS HE: "Have noticed several references to husbands who demand their wives keep an accurate record of household expenses," writes a Philadelphia husband. "The inference is that such men are tightwads. That is a disagreeable characteristic for a husband to have. Why shouldn't a hard working man learn how his money is spent? Many women do not know the value of money. Others chisel on the household expenses so as to have more money for their personal expenses. As for example, some women buy cheap cuts of meat in order to get extra money to buy foolish looking hats."

PASSING BY: Tommy Gibbons. Erstwhile leather pusher. If Tommy isn't actually the champion papa of sportmen, he certainly must be near the top of the list. He is the proud and loving father of nine children . . . Winnie O'Connor. Turf celebrity of yesteryear. The best jockey ever born in Brooklyn. FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

IFIND IT necessary to correct an error by my colleague, Alfred Damon Runyon, in that he did on March 7 assert that it was Pegler who described as "criminal scum" a considerable portion of the winter clientele of Miami and Miami Beach.

Westbrook Pegler

I own up to having used this dainty term more than once, but I think that Alfred, as an old time settler there and a near neighbor of some of the most robust pineapple men and practitioners of the Neapolitan bag trick, should know that it was first applied by John Edgar Hoover, the young King Brady of our time and the eye that never sleeps.

Mr. Hoover was moved to such language one winter when he went to the Miamis for a little vacation and was unable to rest because wherever he looked, by day or night, he saw countenances which set him mentally to riffling the decks and decks of little picture cards in his big plant in the Department of Justice.

While I never objected to gambling as such and have always preferred the table and crank sports to stock speculation because the hurt is comparatively trivial and much sooner over, I often did enjoy describing scenes that a stranger could perceive in the Miamis but which the sheriffs, mayors and policemen were unaware of.

IT SOMETIMES even occurred to my cynical mind that there might be collusion between the dealers and the local statesmen and perhaps gifts of money from the former to the latter for their forbearance in the great distress of all believers in self-government under freedom. But they never did pay me any never-mind until usually along toward the latter part of March which had become an annual festival like the Mardi Gras or Harvest Moon and was known as crime-must-go week.

About the end of this week most of the visitors would be gone and the aroused guardians would state truthfully that there was not a wheel spinning anywhere in Dade County and this would be a great victory for the pure in heart.

Once, the Legislature up in Tallahassee was going to subpoena me to come and tell all the way I understood it was that the member who had this rash idea thought I was already up around Louisville doing some of my tender prose about the steeds.

Instead, however, I had tarried around Orlando and when I wired the members that I would be glad to come over they were so alarmed that they adjourned the Legislature.

I WILL WAGER that you never heard the criminal scum story that I am about to relate.

One winter, in Palm Beach, I dropped into the office of Barry Shannon, the manager of Bradley's big gambling house, and, noticing some ball bats in a corner, asked if the dealers and the boys of the committee, who lurked in the dark of the parking space at night, were playing a little one old cat.

Oh, no, Mr. Shannon said and rolling up a desk revealed a variety of weapons ranging from a 6 1/2 blackjack in a BB width to a blast-furnace of sawed off 12-gauge.

Then pointing up behind the chaste white grille overlooking the big playroom, Mr. Shannon showed me two silent committeemen sitting there with rifles intently watching the scene of extravagance where the women present might have assayed a couple of million in jewelry.

Not long before, Mr. Shannon said, they had had a distinguished visitor, Barry, who is very good on faces, made him before he was inside the door. His guest was Gerald Chapman, one of the recognized leaders of the scum lark to be hanged at Wethersfield, Ct., who was worth $100,000 dead or alive.

He could not divine Mr. Chapman's intentions and this, naturally, made him very nervous. So he telephoned the sheriff, Bob Baker, across the Causeway and Mr. Baker said, yes, and Dutch Anderson, the other half of the team, and likewise worth $100,000, was in a room in West Palm Beach waiting for Chappie to report.

"Didn't you make a grab for them?" I asked Mr. Shannon.

"Oh, for pity sakes alive!" Mr. Shannon said. "Of course, not. We didn't want the distasteful publicity that would have ensued and to Mr. Baker, the good name of our fine community was not to be sacrificed for a paltry $200,000 in rewards. We might even have had a shooting. No, we just watched them carefully and next morning they drove off toward Jacksonville."

"Would you boys tell me what you charge for walking dogs?"

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 14.—I went to see Joan Crawford, who, up to today, was unable to get to the studio. Her house is filled with flowers and she's knee-deep in telegrams. She told me that she's going to do "Portrait in Black," the Geraldine Fitzgerald play. "I'm doing it for Jack Skirball and Bruc Manning," she said. "I was crazy about the script which they sent me and I'll do it, I imagine, after 'The Secret,' although I have several more at Warners. But I also have two for the Skirball-Manning combination at Universal."

Joan is now in the delightful position of picking and choosing, and, believe me, that is wonderful after having been in pictures as many years as she has, and don't think she doesn't appreciate it. She's lost 16 pounds, both from the flu and from worry over that young man named Oscar. No more worry over him now.

TALKED With Jerome Odlum, the author, who has just got himself a nice deal on his book, "There's a Tavern in Our Town." He sold both the stage and film rights to David Hersch, the money gent from New York who helped back "Paris Underground," "Walk in the Sun," and other movies. Hersch plans to bring the Odlum book out on the stage in the fall and later make it into a picture. He bought the book from manuscript and he sent it on to Ethel Barrymore to read, hoping she'll accept it for the stage. Scribner's is bringing the book out in the fall.

"THE SEVENTH VEIL" has brought James Mason of London a perfect avalanche of offers from Hollywood. He's England's top actor of the moment. He's now making a second picture for Rank, called "The Turned Glass," with Carol Reed directing. His wife has a great deal of money and he's greatly influenced by everything she says. She wrote the screen play for his next Rank picture in conjunction with Capt. James Monahan. I hear that 20th Century-Fox has his first bid on Mason.

MARVIN MILLER handed us a laugh before our broadcast last Sunday. Our popular announcer didn't seem any too happy about something and finally he told us the story of the unfortunate nylons! About six weeks ago Marvin ordered a dozen pair of nylons for his wife as a surprise (which is enough to surprise any woman). But unfortunately they were delivered last Thursday—mild's day out—and in rushing down the stairs to answer the bell Mrs. Miller fell and broke her foot. "Now her entire leg is in a cast," moaned Marvin. "I'm the only guy in the world who ever landed in the dog house from giving his wife nylons."

I HAD a cablegram from Tex Feldman saying that he and Mrs. Jayne Cobb Guberson were married last Saturday at the American embassy in Bogota, Colombia. Guberson, to whom Jayne was formerly married, was reported missing in Germany about two years ago and finally declared dead. Tex is rather a fabulous character. He's a wealthy oil man and was known as a free spender around Hollywood, having given a lot of parties at his place in the Valley. When he decided to marry Jayne, he lost no time. She was in New York and he cabled her to meet him, because he had to remain in South America where some of his oil wells are located.

AT THE PRESENT moment, there is absolutely no deal brewing for a movie on Notre Dame. In a letter received by William K. Howard from Fr. John J. Cavanaugh, vice president of the university, it made very clear that the college is going to be careful about the way a motion picture is handled. He writes: "With the many fine traditions of which we are so proud... we do not welcome emphasis only on our athletic achievements. Well, I know how they must feel. No university in the world has more 'adopted' sons than our own Notre Dame—or more ardent rooters than men and boys who have never set foot on the campus.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Mrs. Rouben Walsh gets her divorce tomorrow and it is too bad, too, that her daughter, Marilyn, has also rifted with her husband, Don Phillips. They have two lovely children; Charlie Chaplin, Jr.'s new enthusiasm is Jack Carson, the looker; Jack Carson, in New York, got the kick of his life out of a gift from Joan Crawford, a wristwatch inscribed "For What You Did for Mildred Pierce"; Veronica Lake and Andre De Toth are giving a cocktail party in honor of Edward Hughes. Speaking of Veronica, her ex-husband, Lt. Col. John DeLieu, is out of uniform and coming to Hollywood to look; that gleam in Edmund O'Brien's eye at the Beverly Tropics wasn't the reflection of his liquid light but was Peggy Knudsen, the Warner starlet; everybody is chuckling over the introduction Edgar Bergen gave to Prince Carl Johan Bernadotte—pardon me, it's Mr. Bernadotte now—and his bride, before his radio show went on the air. Said Edgar, "... A one Swede to another."

MICKEY ROONEY leaves for Palm Springs next week with his bride and baby. The Mick says they are the first couple on record to go on a honeymoon with their first-born in tow; there's a report that Marlene Dietrich and Jean Gabin no longer care; Bob Cummings was the instructor who passed Bob Taylor for his license to fly a civilian plane; Danny Kaye is booked for an appearance May 19 in San Francisco for "I Am an American Day." He made a similar appearance at Soldier's Field in Chicago last year. Sam Goldwyn, Danny's boss, has been seen with Mr. John Garfield, dining at the Har-Omar, says that Elia Kazan has bought a house in Beverly Hills and is coming here with his family this summer to direct a movie for M-G-M; Dolly O'Brien and Joe Donato, the screen siren and the Palm Springs, and, well, it looks like marriage. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Boston After Dark

S "Sammy the Rose" Rosenman, brilliant ghost writer and adviser of FDR, is not one of the New York financial group which bought Gordon B. Hanlon's stock control of the Aldred Investment-Trust, owner of control of Suffolk Downs... Reports to that effect have gained some circulation... But a man of the same name is prominent in that group, and he is a cousin of Roosevelt's "Sammy the Rose"...

Other leaders in the New York bid for a claim in the eventual destiny of Suffolk Downs are Richard Rosenthal, described as a young financial wizard, and Gabriel Caplan.

Rosenthal is boss of a Madison ave. firm of investment counselors... He is said to be the guiding spirit of the New York group... The high bid made thus far for the Suffolk Downs interest held by the Aldred Investment Trust is that of a Boston syndicate... That bid, however, is regarded as far too low—perhaps by a million dollars—to purchase the track's control at public auction (as was directed by Judge Sweeney in answer to a petition by Receivers Edward F. Goode and Edward F. Proctor for permission to sell).

ARTISTS' drawings of the new Shore Club of the Hotel Mayflower in Plymouth, which created a minor sensation at a recent hearing of the legislative joint committee on harbors and rivers, are expected to have a good influence in securing a joint federal-state appropriation for the improvement of Plymouth harbor... Members of the committee greeted the artists' drawing of the Hotel Mayflower's proposed improvements with "ahs" and "oohs!"

Members of the committee were surprised again when Walter Waldron, general manager for Harry Simberg's group of hotels, informed them that work had begun already... The project calls for a Shore Club annex to the Mayflower which will comprise 40 cottages and the largest swimming pool in the state (175x100 ft)... The cottages are interchangeable cabins, after the fashion of high class developments in Florida and the islands off the coast of Georgia... Each cabin, or cottage, has two beds... In daytime, the beds convert to divans, and furniture has been designed throughout to be similarly utilitarian... Vanities, for instance, are writing desks when not in use... More than $250,000 will be spent in the Mayflower's scheme of improvement, and 40,000 feet of cypress has just been obtained by the hotel's management—in Florida... This lumber will go toward the cottage interiors.

SPEAKING OF CABINS—or cabanas, as Florida calls them—the market in the adjuncts to successful beach-going this season was very poor in Miami... A free-spending public seemed to balk at putting out $1000 to $1400 for a season's use of a cabana, or private bath house... Rental was so slow, in fact, that the most exclusive cabana clubs in Miami Beach recouped part of the investment and overhead by renting the cabins at night as places to sleep... Home-comers from Florida say that some Miami Beach transients passed their entire vacations in these cabanas.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY—John Duffy, the lad with a fine tenor voice who toils in the daytime as private secretary to the president of a steamship company, has been booked by the Shirley Club, Everett, for an engagement starting Sunday (St. Patrick's Day)... Ed Chisholm, boss of the Shirley Club, said he read about Duffy in this column and gave him an audition which was eminently satisfactory... The Villa Nova, the new Italian restaurant at Albany st. and Broadway, is developing into a popular rendezvous for show folks and an after-theater oasis for visiting artists... Half of Eddie Condon's orchestra visited the Villa Nova after their Symphony Hall concert—a success of real proportions, by the way.

The band of Woody Herman, currently the No. 1 jazz band of the country, is the next hot ticket unit booked for Symphony Hall—on March 31.

The mystic lad will wind up in even hotter water... Lindy's now boasts a waiter who's a double for John Carradine and can recite long passages from Shakespeare. (He does it in the kitchen.)

Washington Scene

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate. Reproduction prohibited.)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—This protracted and piecemeal striking is getting on everybody's nerves. Why don't we all strike at once and get it over with?

It seems as if they just get one dispute settled when two more break out and we have to go through it all over again. And the threats of strikes, even if they don't materialize, are almost as wearing as the strikes themselves.

You hear there's going to be a meat strike, and you won't get meat. A railroad strike and the nation will be at a standstill. A coal strike and you'll freeze to death. A telephone strike and a disruption almost too fearful to contemplate.

THE TROUBLE today is that there's too much greed and avarice in the land. And I am not picking entirely on labor. Many of our biggest businessmen—fellows who are forever boasting of their integrity—are just as greedy.

If human avarice were rampant, let's be a little more intelligent in our greed. Let's remember it doesn't pay to grab everything at once. Let's try to make sure there'll be a little left to grab later.

At a certain resort this winter, which I shall not identify because I do not want people to think I am always picking on Miami Beach, I saw a manifestation of golden goose-killing at its worst. Nearly everyone was on the gyp; seemingly heedless of the fact they might be ruining things to come. They did the worst of what the worst possible publicity for themselves and community. One more year of the out-and-out thievery they practiced this winter and they'll drive out all but the worst type of temporarily-rich man when the decent people stop coming, the riff-raff won't want to come either. Decent people, with a fair amount of money legitimately earned, do not mind paying good prices. They are getting something some value in return. But they hate to be taken for suckers. They may not beef too loudly while being taken—but they remember, they remember. The scam, on the other hand, expect to be taken. It is a strange thing, but the greatest suckers in the world are always the thieves and swindlers themselves.

For God's sake let's get back to some good old American integrity and co-operation. In a game of dog-eat-dog the only thing that's ever left is carrion for the buzzards.

SEN. JOSIAH W. BAILEY of North Carolina has summed up a lot in this letter he just wrote to a constituent: "I do not refer to the generals and admirals in our armed forces as 'brass hats.' 'In my judgment they are fine people, just as patriotic as you and I, and fully as reliable as any other officers of the government.' 'I know there has grown up a habit of referring to them disrespectfully as 'brass hats,' but I do not think it is a good thing for our country. These men have recently conducted us successfully through the greatest of our wars. They brought our young men through with a minimum of losses and a maximum of glory. They are now trying to bring them home as rapidly as possible. There is no reason for imputing to them 'low motives.' They are men who are naturally of high motives."

"Where so many men are engaged you may now and then find a fool, or a weakling, or a coward. It is true of the ministry, of the medical profession, and of all other professions in which there are numbers of men."

"But, taken all in all, there is not a nobler body of men on earth than the men who led this country to victory. They have my confidence and my admiration."

"It strikes me as a shameful thing that, in the hour of victory, there are so many Americans who refer to the great 'brass hats.' They brought a great deal of honor to our country and they saved us from humiliation and defeat, and probably from slavery itself."

MR. FRANK AVREN, former drummer for John W. Bricker in his Presidential aspirations, came here recently as an official of the National Association of Home Builders, the organization which is trying to get homes for people to live in.

But Mr. Avren is thinking of quitting and going back to Ohio. The home builder can't find a place to live!

THE WAR ASSETS Corporation has announced a nationwide sale of haps and haps. The organization, which is trying to get homes for people to live in, advises that a haps is a venomous serpent of the viper family.

Buffet Table Attractive For St. Patrick's Day Party

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

AN ATTRACTIVE BUFFET table will be the center of interest at a St. Patrick's Day party. Set the table with a green-and-white cloth. Arrange cut-out green shamrocks and little St. Patrick figures for decoration. White carnations with plenty of green foliage are a good choice for the centerpiece.

Fashion

NOT TO rush the season, but here's a nifty junior date dress that is typically date-bait with summer-cool diagonals giving a pretty tri-color effect to the model. A favorite dirndl fashion, true to the season's edict and the junior miss' fashion love, it is in sleek, tissue-weight Eastman kada jersey. The self-belt is placed above the skirt gathers. The Betmar bonnet is perfect . . . but so is the blonde beauty.—R. M.

DOUBLE-RING CEREMONY

I am to be maid-of-honor at a double-ring ceremony. Some people say it is the maid-of-honor who holds the bridegroom's ring, and some people tell me it is the best man. Which is it?
M. J.
It may be either; it is for the bride-to-be to decide. The best man may take charge of both rings, or, as is more usual, when the best man hands the bride's ring to the bridegroom, the maid-of-honor hands the bridegroom's ring to the bride.

Serve coffee, everybody's favorite hot beverage, accompanied by dainty little sandwiches, potato chips, olives and carrot strips, and a good looking layer cake. Coffee, to be at its best, must be freshly made at the last minute. If it must stand, keep it over very low heat so that it does not boil.

Sandwiches, on the other hand, may be made a little in advance and kept fresh by wrapping first in waxed paper, then in a damp towel. To make neat looking sandwiches, have a good sharp slicing knife and use a board. Butter or margarine should be soft and creamy so that it will spread easily and not break the bread.

PRUNE BREAD

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1 1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup rolled oats
1/2 cup chopped nut meats
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup sour milk
1 cup prunes, stewed, chopped
1/2 cup prune juice
2 tbsp. melted shortening
Sift flour with baking powder, soda, cinnamon, salt and sugar. Add rolled oats and nut meats and mix thoroughly. Combine egg, sour milk, prunes, prune juice and melted shortening, which has been cooled. Add to the flour mixture and stir just enough to moisten dry ingredients. Turn into greased loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Makes one loaf.

DATE NUT FILLING

Combine 1/2 cup finely chopped nut meats with 3/4 cup finely chopped dates. Add 1 tsp. lemon juice and enough mayonnaise to make mixture of spreading consistency. Spread on small rounds of white bread. Makes filling for 2 dozen sandwiches.

MINCED HAM

Combine 1 cup ground cooked ham with 1/2 cup finely chopped sweet pickle. Add mayonnaise to make of spreading consistency. Spread thinly on small pieces of bread cut in fancy shapes. Makes filling for 1 dozen sandwiches.

WATERCRESS WITH LEMON BUTTER

Add 4 tsp. lemon juice to 1/2 cup softened butter or margarine, stirring constantly, and cream until light and fluffy. Add 1/2 bunch finely chopped watercress and blend thoroughly. Spread on small rounds of bread.

SEA FOAM CAKE

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup shortening
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1/2 tsp. salt 2 eggs
1 cup sugar 2-3 cup milk
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add vanilla extract. Beat eggs until light. Add to creamed mixture and mix well. Add flour mixture alternately with milk. Pour into two paper-lined 8-inch cake pans. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 28 minutes. Frost with Fluffy Frosting, and dab with whole pecans. Makes two 8-inch layers.

FLUFFY FROSTING

2 egg whites 1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup corn syrup
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract
1/2 tsp. lemon extract
Beat egg whites until frothy. Add salt, and beat until stiff. Pour syrup slowly over whites and beat until frosting stands in peaks. Add vanilla and lemon extracts. Beat until stiff enough to spread.

Beauty

WE CAN'T all be as beautiful as the movie stars. But we don't have to have wrinkles in our face and like it . . . we don't have to have a complexion that makes us look older than those fast-moving years. Let an intensive scientific cream . . . one of the best . . . overhaul your complexion for a new face to greet the new season. And then smile as prettily as beautiful Anita Louise.

Who Pays Wedding Costs?

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am entirely at sea as to who pays what expenses for my wedding, which is to be in June. For instance, doesn't the bridegroom pay for the flowers for the church? And who pays for the reception and the wedding cake? Who is supposed to pay for the attendants' costumes and for their bouquets? Thank you if you will help me.
A. C. D.

I believe I can help you best if you will kindly send me an addressed, stamped envelope and I'll send you my WEDDING EXPENSES pamphlet, which lists in detail the expenses that are the responsibility of the bride's family and the bridegroom's expenses.

My best friend, a war bride, was married suddenly. And although she had a large formal wedding, it was all planned on only a week's notice. Because of this shortage of time, it was impossible for me to give her the bridal shower I had intended. Now that her husband is discharged from the service you would think it proper for me to give her a "household shower."
S. S.

Yes, this would be proper. But since I imagine she received many presents for her wedding, I think it would be wise for you to find out from her family just what classification of presents she most would welcome and choose that for your shower-designation.

Or, for a more general party, you might like to wait until the couple are in their new home and then invite a group of the bride's intimate friends to join with you in planning a "housewarming."

Dress for Usherettes Decided by Teachers

I would like to have an opinion about one of our class affairs. Our junior class is giving a play in the evening, and nine other girls and I are to be usherettes. A few of the girls would like to wear street-length dresses; the others would like to wear formal gowns. Which, in your opinion, is correct? S. F.

For me to give an opinion about this would be entirely out-of-order. The group of usherettes should get direction about this from the principal of the school, or from your junior class adviser, or from the director of the play.

jacket on top of that, and more and heavier pads in a coat on top of the rest, they assumed a sort of turtlelike, headless appearance, far from charming.

The greatest designers are showing dresses with no pads in them, jackets with small pads, and coats with modest padding, too. So all foolish women who allowed themselves to wear shoulder pads that made them look hump-backed, with heads sunk deep between the pads, can ease up and look better. Fashion is no excuse now. Fashion never was a reason for making yourself look ridiculous.

What happens to lots of unthinking ladies is that with pads in a waist, more pads in a

Keep From Looking Old

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

LET US NOT MINCE WORDS . . . but get right down to cases. Is age creeping up on you . . . reflecting its ugly and dating image in your face? Are you beginning to show the advance of time? Are you having difficulty stopping the sabotaging onslaught of the dangerous forties?

The trite-but-true "time will tell" adage cannot . . . must not . . . be applicable to a woman's countenance. That's her grip on charm and if facial charm starts to hit the skids . . . it means but one thing. That face needs some intensive renovation . . . a scientific cream that's got the stuff to stop this unwanted facial ageing. Grow old gracefully, yes! But look old, never!

No sense in just tossing in the sponge listlessly and feeling it's got to be, and what can a gal-getting-older do about it anyway? Not today with cosmetic science advanced to such a degree that it can . . . and I mean it can . . . change a woman's entire facial outlook. Every face needs a lift . . . especially after it's been around a long time.

We're not old . . . but we're no sub-debbie either. Yet don't think for a moment it doesn't do our young heart good to hear the boys who know-us when chirp blithely: "Ruth, you don't look a day older in all the time we've known you. Matter of fact, you look much younger." No matter how you look at it . . . that's music to a girl's ears . . . and to mine, a glorious symphony. When the wrinkles and lines begin to show . . . that's the time to make capital of an intensive scientific cream.

We owe it all to scientific creams. From us they have hearty endorsements. In our book they are the beauty translation of the fountain-of-youth. One especially . . . which has been so kind to our complexion . . . and which we hold in very high regard.

Use it the way we do . . . if you're in your thirties or over . . . and see if we're not the grand one for suggesting it. Before you jump between those snow-white sheets . . . and after you've cleansed the mien of its day's accumulation of dirt, dust and makeup . . . smooth a light film of this ivory-colored cream over your face and throat . . . where the visible wrinkle-circle is usually very bad . . . and go to bed. In a few weeks . . . you'll be amazed at the new life that's come to your complexion . . .

For the name of this complexion overhauling cream, phone the Beauty Dept., LIB-erly 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mother Risks Life in Rescue

An 80-year-old Jamaica Plain mother today beat out the flaming clothing of her daughter and then refused hospitalization for her own burns on the face, hands and head.

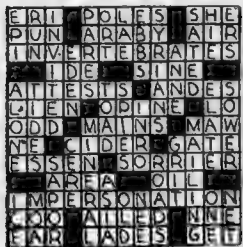

Awakened by the crackle of flames, Mrs. Alice Pierce of Thomas st., Jamaica Plain, found the room of her daughter, Helen, 40, in flames. She smothered the fire with blankets before pulling her into a hallway.

Miss Pierce was rushed to City Hospital with severe burns on the body. Her name was placed on the danger list.

Firemen attempted to take the elderly heroine to the hospital, but she said her own doctor could care for her.

Both the mother and daughter were assisted from the house by Capt. Egbert Murphy, who led a squad of Engine 28 firemen into the flaming dwelling. Damage to the bedroom and hallway was estimated at $1000.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—
Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Prevention of many diseases with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of ailing backs flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Smart Set Society Fashion Show

By BETTY ALDEN

WHEN ANN LITCHARD of Lincoln arrived yesterday for spring vacation from Wells College her first date was for luncheon with her mother, Mrs. Donald B. Litchard, at the Somerset's Balinese Room.

The occasion was society's first big postwar fashion show and provided Ann a perfect opportunity to look over the latest styles for spring proms and cocktail parties that are bound to fill the social calendar of such an attractive young collegienne. Mrs. H. Starr Ballou, Jr., of Wellesley lunched with Ann and her mother.

To celebrate the signs of spring in the air most of the fashionable ladies at luncheon wore gay spring suits and flowered hats. Mrs. Wallace L. Pierce who shared a table with Mrs. Weston Adams, Jr., wore springlike navy blue with a matching half hat and Mrs. Adams topped her tan suit with a gay little bonnet of cocoa straw.

Kay Salt
Mrs. S. Huntington Wolcott, Jr., wore a trim navy suit with touches of white in her gloves, blouse and the trimming on her hat and Mrs. Rinaldo Foster also chose a tailored navy ensemble. A threesome luncheon at a ring-side table included Mrs. George Shields of Duxbury, Mrs. John Hope and Mrs. Edward Horn of Waban. Nearby was attractive and peppy Mrs. Edward Hobbs of Hingham in a royal blue tunic dress and black cockat hat, luncheon with Mrs. George Claff and Mrs. D. L. Dunlop.

Fashions for the opera, spring proms and deb parties were modeled by Mary Kay Arnold who paraded in an adorable pink, black and white plaid taffeta gown with full skirt and perky self bow on one shoulder; a lemon yellow faille with voluminous skirt modeled by Kay Salt, and a lovely white jersey with gold kid applique shown by pretty Sarah Ann Foster. Laura C. Currier paraded in a full skirted white tulle lavishly trimmed with gold sequins and Lilian Furber in a white ball gown appliqued with black sequins and worn with short black gloves.

Others luncheon in the Balinese Room were Mrs. Louis Curtis, Mrs. William Brace Pratt, Mrs. David Sigourney, Mrs. Lloyd Salt, Mrs. Robert Tappan and Ann Griess with Mrs. Stephen R. Casey.

Another gay springtime luncheon was the reunion of the 1914 Sewing Circle at the Chilton Club

NEW YORK, March 14—A day in New York . . . Breakfast of orange juice, muffins and coffee at a small restaurant on West 47th st. which reminded me of spot on Summer st., where Sam Berensen and myself have had our coffee and doughnuts for years . . . A brisk walk to St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth ave. . . . Watching with great interest as workmen climbed the stagings that surrounded the lofty steeples of the majestic structure . . . Attending the lenten devotions as time passed before my 9 a. m. appointment with Francis Cardinal Spellman at his residence on Madison ave.

Card. Spellman

A pleasant meeting with the new cardinal in one of his second floor offices . . . Cardinal Spellman telling me that his health was good, and that he was busy with affairs of the New York archdiocese . . . Cardinal Spellman declaring he will come to Boston in April for the pallium service of Abp. Richard J. Cushing at the Holy Cross Cathedral . . . While in Boston, in April, the cardinal will visit with his father, William Spellman, and other members of his family at Whitman. Cardinal Spellman still possessing all of his boundless energy, and being interested in news happenings in all parts of the world . . . And retaining all of his keen interest in his many friends on Greater Boston and throughout New England.

Learning that Bishop John O'Hara, former president of Notre Dame and assistant to Cardinal Spellman in the military ordinariate, is bishop of Buffalo . . . Bishop O'Hara, despite his busy duties as a cleric, never lost his interest in sports which did so much for Notre Dame.

Walking down Madison ave. as thousands of people hurried to work . . . Finding Walter Howey, editor of the American Weekly, in his office in the Mirror Building . . . Editor Howey taking me to his work laboratory where he had the latest in cameras and electrical devices. Perhaps, a new type of speed ray camera, or some new machine which would send pictures faster and better over telephone and other wires.

Howey walking through the editorial department of the American Weekly, and flashing forth ideas on feature stories to a dozen writers . . . Keeping the stories as near the news as possible and jammed with human interest . . . Luncheon with Howey and a member of his American Weekly staff . . . Talking of growth of newspapers and magazines . . . Howey saying American Weekly now has circulation of $5,000,000, and that it will increase when more white paper is available. Canadiens Shaping Up As Bruins' Playoff Foe

By FRED HOEY

Coming from nowhere, the New York Rangers sent a Garden crowd home keenly, disappointed when they out-played and out-hustled the Bruins to win, 5-3, in a game that had a very important bearing on the Bruins' immediate future. The Rangers came from behind to grab the game. At one stage of the game New York trailed Boston 1-3. The Rangers deserved the victory. They were on the puck from the outset even when behind. The Bruins appeared not only weary and listless, but became careless.

With the Blackhawks shellacking Detroit, 9 to 4, in Chicago, it looks more and more as though the Bruins may have to play the league leading Canadiens in Montreal next Tuesday night.

The Bruins still retain second place with a one point edge over the Hawks. But the Hawks play in Detroit tonight and in Montreal Saturday night. Then comes their all important game here Sunday night with the Bruins.

Should the Hawks drop these games, it would be swell for the Bruins. But judging by their whirlwind play last night against the Wings, they aren't likely to lose all three.

The hustling Rangers showed early in the first period that they meant real business. Following a face-off near the Bruin line, Rene Trudell captured the rubber and went in on the Bruin defense. He passed to Al Gardiner who nocked goal No. 1.

The Coway line began to function at this point. Just 17 seconds later, Bill Coway passed to Roy Conacher who in turn fed to Terry Reardon for the equalizer.

Going into the second period the Milt Schmidt line asserted itself. Schmitt went in on the Ranger defense and took a shot. The rubber bounded off Rayner's pads. Woody Dumart pounced on it and caged it.

For the balance of the period the Rangers outplayed the home boys. Don Gallinger scored at 2:08 of the third period on Jack Church's rebound. Then the house fell in on the Bruins. Those hustling Ranger kids swarmed all over the Bruins and really made them look bad. The visitors scored three goals in three minutes and 40 seconds.

The Bruins never were in the game after this. In desperation they yanked Brimsek out of the net and left themselves wide open to a N. H. L. standing.

Bagby Gets Test Against Yanks

By HERB FINNEGAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 14—Red Sox pitchers in tomorrow's game with Yankees here will be Jim Bagby, Charlie Wagner and rookie Mel Deutsch. It will be Bagby's first start in Boston flannels since he was traded to Cleveland in '40 along with Gee Walker and Gene Desautels for Frankie Pytlak, Joe Dobson and Sammy Hale.

Bagby was something of a problem child in his first tour with the Sox. He had won 15, lost 11 as a freshman in '38, and seemed to have established himself. But he was sent to Little Rock in '39 "for disciplinary reasons." It wasn't that he broke training rules; rather, that he didn't hesitate to speak his little piece.

He came back to the Sox in '40, still with a chip on his shoulder, and was shipped to Cleveland in December. Now he's starting anew under Cronin.

Is he still a "problem child?" Will he pitch winning ball?

Well, from his actions these first three weeks, he'll be one of the Sox most valuable assets. He's 29 now, realizes his 85 won, 86 lost record isn't anything to rave about. He's determined to do better. He's proved that. He's won 17, lost 9 in '42 when he won 17, lost 9.

9. But more, he's happy in his new environment. (Who wouldn't be after five years in Cleveland?)

He's been the "life of the party" since his arrival. The clubhouse and hotel lobby are a riot of laughs when he's around.

He's 15 pounds lighter than at any time since his release from Maritime Service in '41. He's working hard. Hundreds of Sarasotans turn out every day, just to see him play "pepper" and listen to him jabber. He's a most versatile athlete. He can hit and he can field, and his third basing is something to watch. Atop it all, he's the best golfer in camp, always in the low 70's.

For years domestic illnesses have plagued him. Now his wife is up and around and though his oldest son is wearing leg braces physicians believe he'll be okay soon. So Jim's heart is lighter.

He's the son of "Sarge" Jim Bagby who won 31 games for Cleveland's 1920 pennant winners. "For nine years I've been getting by on the Old Gent's 'rep,' he said today. "Now it's time for me to make one for myself."

With this attitude with the Sox batting power and fielding finesse behind him, with a group of team-mates who revel in his humorous anecdotes, there is every reason to believe he'll enjoy his best season. Tomorrow should tell part of the story.

Cooper, Treichel, Wallace Top Tribe's Hurlers

By BILL GRIMES

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla., March 14.—There are 17 signed pitchers in the Braves' camp and three unsigned, who are about to be written off as poor investments. But come June 15, when all major league club rosters must be cut to 30 active players, Manager Billy Southworth's pitching corps will be reduced to nine.

Of the six left-handed pitchers, Jimmy Wallace and Lou Tost are the only ones available for mound duty. Art Johnson is in St. Louis having his arm treated, Joe Fryer has an elbow condition which may be serious enough to warrant an operation, and Charlie Cozart and Jim Trexler are holdouts.

Then, too, Al Javery is a question mark. He looked great warming up during a couple of times, but on March 5, in an intra-squad game, which was his only appearance in competition, "blew."

After observing them here for almost a month, I rate the Braves' pitchers as follows: Mort Cooper, Al Treichel, Jimmy Wallace, Bill Lee, Bill Posedel, Jim Singleton, Ed Wright, Johnny Sain, Earl Reid, Lou Tost, Tim Triner, Johnny Hutchins, Don Hendrickson.

Cooper will be the "stop" pitcher, whenever the Braves slip into a losing streak. He hasn't experienced the slightest trouble with his elbow, but Southworth insists that he go slowly and condition himself to pitch the opener against the Dodgers on April 16 at Braves Field.

A year ago, after the three years in the Army and very little experience in organized ball, Wallace lost confidence and wisely asked to be sent to Indianapolis where he won 17 and lost 4. Right now, Jimmy is the cocky kid he was when he first came up from Evansville. He really takes charge when he goes to the mound. And, moreover, he has what it takes to win up here.

Lee and Posedel, veterans of many National League campaigns, haven't lost any of their cunning.

Jim Singleton, Ed Wright, Johnny Sain and Earl Reid are coming along well. They should be more effective as the training season progresses, and winning pitchers after the bell rings.

On my rating, Tost, Triner, Hutchings, Hendrickson, Fletcher and Cardoni will fight it out for the ninth pitcher's berth. Due to the fact he's a southpaw, Tost has the call but he must step on it to get the nod.

Draft Dodging Players Hit

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14 (AP).—Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who has just returned from Cuba, said "any man who wouldn't fight for his country isn't going to play for it," as he closed organized baseball's doors on players who avoided U. S. military service while playing in other countries.

"There are only a few of those fellows, but there are some," Chandler said. "They jumped into Mexican or Cuban leagues and weren't available for draft service here."

Nutmeg Quintet Choice in N. E.'s

The climax of the schoolboy basketball season, the New England Interscholastic Tourney, gets under way at the Garden tonight, and once again, as has become customary in this annual affair, a Connecticut entry is favored.

Hillhouse High of New Haven, Nutmeg State titlist and defending champion in this event, is the team picked as most likely to succeed in this year's New England.

Of the previous 20 N. E. titles decided, Connecticut teams have won no fewer than 12. Massachusetts has won four times, to three for Rhode Island and one for Maine. New Hampshire and Vermont are still seeking their first New England crown.

The longest span of Nutmeg State dominance came between 1933 and 1938 when a Connecticut team won every year, six consecutive titles.

Thus it's small wonder why a Connecticut team is annually selected as the "one to beat."

This year's two entries from the Nutmeg State, Hillhouse and Bristol, have each won the New England title twice. Hillhouse, in addition to last year's win, copped the crown in 1937, with Bristol turning in victories in '33 and '41.

First round pairings for tonight with season won and lost records in parentheses are as follows: 6 p. m.—Bristol, Ct. (20-2) vs. Springfield, Vt. (21-1); 6:30 p. m.—Hillhouse (15-4) vs. Edward Little of Auburn, Me. (15-1); 8:15 p. m.—Westfield, Mass. (19-2) vs. Pawtucket East (21-4); 8:45 p. m.—New Bedford (14-5) vs. Nashua, N. H. (15-2).

Glassman Subs Against Pretzie

Hal Glassman of Philadelphia will meet Johnny Pretzie of Boston in the main ten-round bout of the Sharkey club's ring show at the Arena tomorrow night. Glassman substitutes for Howard Thompson of Saugus, who withdrew from the match with Pretzie.

Glassman fought in Boston recently, winning over Jim White. The eight-round semi-final will send Sgt. Ed Bangs of Cambridge against Tom Spencer of New Waterford, N. S. The second eight-round provides Larry Pacino of Roxbury with his second ring test since being discharged from the armed forces, against Fernand Demers of Montreal.

Opening fouls are: Joe Hebert, Lowell, vs. Charley Kelley, Toronto; and Tony Reno, North End, vs. Gus Edwards, West End. Jim Sauer, Cambridge, will face Frank Wrenn, Roxbury, in a six-rounder.

Spider Jack Armstrong, who meets Jackie Harris next Monday night in one of the four 10-round all-star bouts on a Callahan A. C. boxing card at the Garden, has won five straight fights here, three by knockouts and two by runaway decisions.

Other 10-rounders on the Callahan card will be Buddy Hayes, South End, N. E. featherweight champion, vs. Midget Mayo, Philadelphia; Tommy Greb, West End, vs. Tony Costa, Woonsocket; and Tommy Sullivan, South Boston, vs. John Ekew, Brockton.

Gus Mell of Montreal, who climbed from prelin status to main bout rank here in Boston, will tackle Johnny Cesario of the North End in the main event of a Goodwin ring show at the Garden a week from tomorrow.

The bout is a return shot for Cesario, who was decimated by Mell in their last meeting.

Rod-Gun Clubs Set for Big Year

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

The crocuses are stirring—and so are scores of Massachusetts rod and gun clubs, many busy stocking streams with trout, as well as making other preparations for the biggest fishing season in years.

Indicative of the renewed interest in outdoor organizations is word from the Hingham Sportsmen's Club to the effect that 24 new members will be ushered in at the monthly meeting, Monday night. Speaker of the evening will be an eminent geologist, Mr. Leimo Parhiala, who has just returned from Europe after serving with the U. S. Naval Intelligence section.

To raise funds for trout, tickets are being sold, with the lucky winner of the drawing receiving a rod, reel, and line. . . . President of the club is Sid Palmer, while Tom Lawton is chairman of the fishing committee. . . . Norman Morse tells us that the riflemen have been practicing each week in the Armory, getting set for future target and skeet shoots.

According to Orin Arlin, Secretary of the Mass. Amateur Trapshooting Ass'n, the Ipswich Fish and Game Ass'n will conduct a match for gunners next Sunday, at 2:00 p. m., on the club grounds.

ANGLING ANGLES: "The Mass. Fish and Game Association's trout pools at Norfolk will definitely be open this Saturday, for all members and guests," stated Paul Provandie, chairman of the inland fishing committee, in a chat yesterday. . . . He added that the ice has gone, and hundreds of fish have been planted for this "preview" of the season. . . . Paul plans to drive to Norfolk this weekend, and will be one of the initial anglers to flick a fly on the surface of the waters, soon after dawn. . . . For those interested, some memberships in the MFGA are still open, so send applications to 20 Spruce st. Boston.

Salmon fishermen will hark to this card from Edie and Fred Toon, skiing anglers of Quincy: "While at Sebago, Maine, last week-end, we found that the ice in the Basin of Big Sebago was practically out—the earliest ever, which means the lake itself may clear soon." Since this is New England, we'll keep our fingers crossed!

DID YOU KNOW—that 68 per cent of America's male population, ages 18 to 65, are active hunters and anglers? . . . Not to mention the fair sex, who are taking up these sports in rapidly increasing numbers!

GOLF

Winter Tour Spiced By Brazilian Golfer

By BYRON NELSON

Mario Gonzalez, the 24-year-old Brazilian amateur champion, has been a welcome addition to the winter tour this year. His best showing to date was at Pensacola, Fla., where he was the leading amateur with a score of 285. I have been paired with him several times and he has played very well.

The South American, who is tall and slender and sports a mustache weighs only 124 pounds, but he gets an amazing amount of distance off the tee for a man of that weight. He accomplishes this because his full smooth backswing reserves all of his weight until he hits through the ball at the bottom of his swing.

Before coming to this country last fall to join the tour Gonzalez won the Sao Paulo open in his home city of Sao Paulo, Brazil, with a score of 271. Martine Fosse, the outstanding Argentine professional who was here in 1940, finished second.

This gives you some idea of how capable Mario is on his home grounds because Martine is a good golfer in any country.

Gonzalez also won the Brazilian amateur championship in 1939, 1940, 1941, 1943 and 1945. He won the Argentine amateur championship in 1940 and 1944 and the Argentine open in 1940.

On his previous visit here, which was in 1941, Mario was greatly disappointed because he did not qualify for the U. S. open at Ft. Worth, which was won by Craig Wood, but Gonzalez was only 19 at the time and has greatly improved since then. His best showing on that trip was the 67 he shot at Elmhurst during the Chicago open.

Mario started playing golf very young and won his first title, the Brazilian amateur championship, at the age of 17. His father, Joe Gonzalez, is a professional golfer in Sao Paulo, but Mario is in the insurance business and says he has no intention of ever playing golf for money.

Coming here from a country where the language and customs are so different, Gonzalez has done very well. I realize what this means and how upsetting it can be to a golfer's game from my own experience while in South America.

"Some day I hope one of your top professionals will come to Brazil to stay," he told me. "It would mean a great deal to the game in my country."

I asked Mario if there were any new prospects coming along as golfers in South America that we haven't seen or heard of up here. He told me that a 23-year-old Argentinian named Roberto De Vicenzo is the current sensation. "He is a big, strong fellow and a very long hitter," Gonzalez told me. "He also has a very good short game. I am sure that he will be coming up here to play. Maybe next year."

Mario has become very popular with the golfers because of his charm, ready-wit and his ability to take the kidding that has been tossed his way while he has been here.

One story going the rounds about him is the way he handled a golfer who got a little out of line by calling him a lucky so-and-so when he made a recovery shot from among the trees off the fairway to place his ball on the green a few feet from the hole.

"Mister So And So," said Mario, calling his opponent by name, "in Brazil we think that, but we do not say it."

RI State Meets Bowling Green

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—

The Bowling Green Falcons of Ohio and the St. John's Redmen of Brooklyn are favored to win tonight's opening games in the National Invitation Tourney at Madison Square Garden, one of the climaxes to the college basketball season.

A sellout crowd of more than 18,000 is expected to be on hand at 8 p. m. (EST) when the Falcons take the floor against the high-scoring Rhode Island State Rams in the first game of the doubleheader. St. John's is paired against the West Virginia Mountaineers in the second game at 10 p. m.

The twin bill inaugurates a series of seven doubleheaders to be played at the Eighth Avenue Arena during the next 12 days. On Saturday, Kentucky meets Arizona and Syracuse battles Muhlenberg in the remaining first round games of the invitation tourney. On Monday the semi-finals are scheduled with the championship final due on Wednesday. A week from today the eastern NCAA eliminations start between Ohio State, Harvard, North Carolina and New York University.

Bowling Green, runner-up to DePaul in last year's final, is favored by 11 points over Rhode Island. The Falcons have won 27 of 31 games and can boast of having inflicted one of the two defeats the Oklahoma Aggies, NCAA champs, have suffered this season. The Rhodies have a won-lost record of 19-2, their most recent triumph coming against Brown Tuesday night.
